

From the Albany Daily Advertiser.
A VOICE FROM THE PULPIT.
Mr. Editor.—In a sermon preached in Boston not long since, by the Rev. John Pieppont, and published in the New World of last Saturday, I find the following denunciation of some of the measures of the present Administration:

"The government of this young nation more weakly, as I verily believe not wickedly administered than the government of any other civilized nation upon earth, which but three years ago had a surplus of $40,000,000 in attempting to destroy the last remnants of a race which it was bound in honor and by treaties to protect: and now, having stamped upon itself the indelible disgrace, with the boasts & the wealth of fifteen millions to conquer a few thousand poor savages, has branded the escutcheon of his country's fame with the still more burning shame of calling in bloodhounds to hunt and tear a foe it could not conquer by the modes of warfare which are deemed honorable by military men—thus placing itself as a government, by the side of the sanguinary Spaniard of four centuries ago, and deserving as it must receive, the execrations or the pity of good men, and the righteous judgments of almighty God."

MY NEIGHBOR.

There are some troublesome neighbors who are the plague of a man's life. They borrow your umbrella when you want to go out, come and pay you a visit when you want to work at home, play the French horn when you want to go to sleep, and give a party on the very evening when you want to finish a tragedy. My neighbor has none of those faults, but he tries to incommode me every moment he pries into every thing in my room, destroys my papers, devours my breakfast. Butter, cheese, poultry, game, almost everything is acceptable to him; and he never eats bread when he can get cake. He is neither a land owner nor an elector, he pays no rent for his apartment yet lives very comfortably.—My neighbor is very gentlemanly in his habits, but never comes home till after midnight, and is fond of serenades & nightly meetings with the object of his affections. In other respects his character is good—he is neither a fop nor a bully, and avoids rather than seeks quarrels, he bears no malice towards those who treat him ill, and if you turn him out by one door he will come back by the other. He goes from house to house making himself comfortable wherever he goes, and staying till he is tired, without ever waiting for an invitation. Familiar as he is with your provisions, only take the trouble to put the stoppers in your decanters, and he will not meddle with them. He is always well dressed his boots never creak on the floor. For the soles are made of the upper leather of India rubber. My neighbor though he knows that I must wear a coat out at the elbows, never wears anything but the softest furs.—He never lays in fuel but spends the cold season in my chimney corner. All this I have to put up with. In fact I think myself lucky, if he does not invite his friends to his nocturnal orgies, but contents himself with abusing my hospitality, rummaging my furniture, and plundering my larder. My neighbor is one of those personages whomust be well treated. It is well known that when he leaves a residence it is sure to tumble down soon. This troublesome neighbor dear reader is a mouse.—From the Ftench

The election for borough officers in Gettysburg, Pa. resulted in the success of the Harrison ticket by more than two to one. The vote was for the Harrison ticket 138, Van Buren 65.

In York at a similar election, the friends of Harrison succeeded by 220 majority.

ROME HAS YIELDED!—There was a sharp and spirited contest in the village of Rome for charter officers, which resulted in the success of the entire Whig ticket by a majority of upwards of twenty. Rome has always been against us.—Albany Journal.

Gen. John A. Quitman has declined the proffered chance of being a Van Buren Elector from Mississippi.

"The Straight out Harrisonian."—This is the name of a spirited Whig paper, published at Columbus, O., where there is a political association consisting exclusively of Jackson and Van Buren men who come "straight out" for Harrison!

LADIES' COMPANION.

New Volume commenced with the May Number.

THE Ladies' Companion, established in May, 1834—a popular and highly esteemed magazine of General Literature and the Fine Arts; embellish with gorgeous and costly engravings on steel, and the Quarterly fashions; and also with Fashionable and popular Music, arranged for the Piano-Forte, and Guitar.

Since the publication of the number for November, the demand for the Ladies' Companion has been unprecedented and beyond the most sanguine anticipations. At the commencement of the volume an additional number of copies were printed, which was considered at the time adequate to satisfy all the orders which might be received, and leave a considerable number on hand for subsequent calls. The publisher is more than gratified in stating that the whole of an edition of six thousand, five hundred copies, was completely exhausted before the issuing of the third number of the volume; and, consequently, he was compelled to reprint a second edition of two thousand copies, making the circulation of the Ladies' Companion eight thousand five hundred, at the termination of the tenth volume. In consequence of this great and unparalleled increase of new subscribers, he has determined to commence the new volume for the ensuing year with thirteen thousand: hoping that he will thus be enabled to supply all the demands for the Ladies' Companion, as well as those disappointed in commencing with the tenth volume. The proprietor feels grateful for that encouragement which has been so lavishly bestowed upon his magazine, and at the same time he begs to assure the readers of the Ladies' Companion, that it is determined resolution to meet it with a corresponding liberality to merit its continuance. The work appears in beautiful new type, printed on the finest paper; smoothly pressed, and neatly stitched in a handsome cover.

The Ladies' Companion contains a larger quantity of reading than any other magazine issued in this country, and its subscription price is only three dollars a year, while the great combination of talent secured for the coming year will render it unequalled by any other periodical.

Splendid Steel Engravings, prepared by Mr. A. Dick, ornament the work—one of which accompanies each number. These plates are entirely new, and are engraved at a heavy expense by one of the best artists in America, expressly for the magazine. The designs are selected with a view of interesting the general reader, and enhancing the value of the work, for its superior pictorial embellishments. It is with pride the proprietor announces that the Ladies' Companion is the only magazine published, in which new and elegant steel plates appear regularly. Those accompanying other monthly periodicals, are generally first worn out in annuals. In addition to the engravings mentioned, a correct plate of the Quarterly Fashions for Ladies, will appear in the June, September, December, and March numbers, independent of the usual embellishment. It is the determination of the proprietor, that these fashion plates shall appear in a style hitherto unknown. It literary character will undergo no change, as it will remain under the charge of the same Editors as heretofore. Articles from the pens of the most distinguished writers, will appear in the forthcoming numbers, among which may be enumerated the following:—Mrs. Holland, Emma C. Embury, Lydia H. Sigourney, Frances S. Osgood, Ellet, Caroline Orne, Seba Smith, Mrs. Harrington, Ann S. Stevens, Miss Hannah F. Gould, Mary Ann Browne, Charlotte Cushman, Mary Emily Jackson, Henry W. Herbert, author of 'Cromwell,' &c. Professor J. H. Ingraham, author of 'Burton,' 'Capt. Kidd,' &c. Professor H. W. Longfellow, author of 'Outre Mer,' Wm E. Burton, Chief Justice Mellen, John Neal, Park Benjamin, Grenville Mellen, N. C. Brooks, A. M. George P. Morris, Robert Hamilton, Isaac C. Pray, Wm Comstock, Hiram B. Dennis, Rev J. H. Clinch, James Brooks, Albert Pike, F. A. DuRoi, Henry F. Harrington, together with several others, with whom negotiations are pending. They will hereafter be announced.

William W. Snowden, } Editors.
Henry F. Harrington, }

The Musical Department of the Ladies' Companion has ever commanded a large share of attention, and has been looked upon with no little interest by its readers, and more especially the Ladies, whom the publisher is anxious to please. It will continue to be a subject of more than usual care to him, and to the Professor under whose supervision it is placed, to make that portion of the magazine deserving of the countenance of every lover of music.

The Work in General. Of every department an equally careful supervision will be strictly exercised by the Editors, and all appropriate expenditures will be liberally bestowed, as it is the design of the publisher, with the aid of his contributors and the advice of his friends to make the Ladies Companion distinguished for the beauty and accuracy of its typography, the variety and high tone of its literary articles, the quality and value of its music, and the unequal splendor of its pictorial embellishments, and the accuracy of its quarterly fashions. The proprietor pledges himself to use all honorable means to maintain the superiority which the Ladies' Companion has obtained.—For five years he has steadily pursued a course of improvement, and he flatters himself that his present facilities are such as to give the work eminent advantages over all other publications.

From the foregoing it will be perceived that the Ladies' Companion embraces every department within the range of Belles-Lettres and the Fine Arts: and no exertions or expense will be deemed too great to render the work equal to any other extant. The flattering and general testimonials of nearly every contemporary journal in the United States, and in fact, many on the other side of the Atlantic, have strongly asserted the undeniable claims of the Ladies' Companion to the support of the public generally. There is no work that gives its readers such a great return for their money.

Terms.—Three Dollars a year in advance, or Four Dollars during the year.

No subscription received for less than a year. Letters must be post paid, otherwise the postage is deducted, and credit given only for the balance.

STOGDELL STOKES.

May 29, 1840.

Prospectus of Robert's World of Romance.

The cheapest work ever published in this country.

The subscriber will issue weekly from the press of the Boston Daily Times, and Boston Notion, a publication of the above title, in eight imperial folio pages, each page being half the size of the page of the Boston Notion.

Each sheet will contain one volume of a Novel, of the ordinary octavo size, and will form a series of all the most popular English Novels and Romances of the day; with such desirable ancient works as are not to be obtained at the booksellers. Arrangements having been made in London to secure the earliest reception of new books, this republication will be the first in this country.

The cheapness with which books can in this manner be afforded, renders it an object for booksellers and others to give their orders early, as the edition will be limited, at first to Five Thousand Copies, and many persons will desire to secure and bind the year's volume, which will be equal to Fifty two Octavo Volumes, for FOUR DOLLARS. Thus copies of valuable works may be obtained for a trifle more than is paid to Circulating Libraries merely for one perusal.

The sheet will be printed in handsome style, with a folio and running head to each page, wide margin and good register; thus rendering it fit to preserve for binding at the expiration of each year.

TERMS.—Four dollars per annum; two dollars and a half for six months; three copies for ten dollars; five copies for sixteen dollars; ten copies for thirty dollars per annum. No discount will be made for less than three copies.

Postmasters and booksellers throughout the country are authorized to act as agents, on the terms specified.

Copies will be sold singly at the Counting Room, No. 7, State street, for ten cents each; and will be furnished to orders for eight dollars per hundred, payable in advance.

Not a copy will be sent from the office before the money is received for it, as the publisher is determined its circulation shall be entirely upon the cash principle.

The first number will be published on Thursday morning, Nov. 28, and the publication will be continued every Thursday thereafter.

The regular subscribers will be supplied during the term of their subscription, with any missing number which it may be possible to procure.
